"I said ... is it a gimmee?"

This month our fearless board has finally made a decision on regulating gimmee putts. Since there is a wide opinion on what constitutes a gimmee it has been decided that the "length" of the pin flag will be it. Since the flag is at hand during all putting it is an easy reference. To make it even easier you can mark your putter shaft with a piece of tape... the official distance is 21.75 inches. No more – we draw the line there! This will save a bit of time. For pace of play and fairness we should all adhere to this maximum distance for a gimmee.

"Wait? He can't do that!"

There have been several reports lately of members improving their lie. If you are not happy with your lie or your ball has sunk into a divot... sorry – you're stuck with it. You cannot just move it, if you see someone doing this – call him out on it right away. Reporting it to the board just delays the communication process and in a lot of cases the offender may never be told he is in violation.

So, when CAN you improve your lie? There are a couple of club rules that come into play here. It has been decided that anytime the course enforces "cart path Only" on wet days, we as a club automatically adopt a "lift, clean & place" rule for the day in the fairways and all closely mown areas.

The other time you can improve your lie is when you have mud on your ball and you are in a closely mown area, just call it to the other players attention that you have mud on your ball and you are good to go.

The only way for members to learn that it's NOT OK to just move your ball out of a divot is if we as members let them know right away!

"Just pick it up already!"

We have all been there ... watching a guy putt two, three times and you just want to say "Pick it up – that's enough!" Well, when we are playing low net – you just can't do that. Every stroke counts. Remember you are protecting the entire field, not just your flight. You would hope others payers are protecting your flight – right? How many times does the money come down to 1 stroke? Putt it out – or at least putt it to the gimmee zone!

That's it ... thanks for reading. Pleasant days and long nights.
